

W I S C O N S I N
RENEWABLE ENERGY SUMMIT

MARCH 12 – 14, 2008

Jim Gibson

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHY

Jim Gibson

James L. 'Jim' Gibson is currently serving as Education Director for Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources Systems in the state office of the Wisconsin Technical College System. He began his career as a secondary school instructor of vocational agriculture, then for 24 years worked in administration and teaching of two-year college programs in agriculture at Michigan State University and the University of Minnesota. He moved to Wisconsin to work as a development officer for the National FFA Foundation, then became president and CEO of the Wisconsin Agribusiness Council and Foundation until joining the WTCS office in 2000. He earned his Ph.D. in Vocational Education at Michigan State University.